FOR THE GLORY AND HONOR OF FAYETTE COUNTY.

Even if there had been a disposition which there was not—on part of the local Board of Education to withhold its assent to a resumption of athletic relations with the Uniontown High School, the frankness and sincerity of the proposal coming from the directors of the latter institution would have acted to remove any hesitation on part of our own school officials. Promptly upon the receipt of the official notice of the action of the Uniontown board to unanimously adopting a resolution expressing the desire that athletic relations be re-established, accompanied by a cordial letter of transmission, our board formally and in the most friendly spirit accepted the proposal.

This action merits and is receiving the very hearty commendation of the patrons of the Conneltsville school and has been no less cordially approved in Uniontown. Commencing upon the happy termination of the armed truce between the athletic departments of the two schools, the Morning Herald says:

"One of the best items of news to be published here for some time comes in the announcement that athletic relations between Uniontown and Conneltsville high schools are to be resumed. Sentiment for such a resumption has been growing more and more pronounced during the past few years. The unfortunate and deplorable incident which marked the ending of a Uniontown-Conneltsville football game some 12 years ago here had long since ceased to be remembered with any feeling of animosity or bitterness; only genuine regret over the affair with the hope that the incident would be forgotten officially.
This is the two school boards have now done and it is distinctly to their credit that they have written 'this' to the long, drawn out and unbecoming episode. The Uniontown board made the initial move in the matter and this was it should be noted and this was in the light of what happened 12 years ago. The Conneltsville board lost no time in making friendly acknowledgment of the letter from here and letting it be known publicly that they were heartily rejoicing in the resumption of athletic relations with Uniontown. And so relations will be renewed. All's well that ends well."

It will now be the duty of the athletic boards of Conneltsville and Uniontown to stand back of their respective school authorities in making effective, in a true spirit of agreement and cooperation, the agreement which has been reached with respect to the re-establishment of athletic relations.

Finally, it is an element in such relations we ought all to remember that we are citizens of Fayette county, which is bigger than either Conneltsville or Uniontown. We will stimulate, rather than lose, our local community spirit by the fact that we are in a team work to win new glories and now honors for Fayette county, and advance it to such importance in the realm of scholastic sports as will entitle it to be mentioned in large red letters on the map. We have the material out of which to make champion teams of all kinds, to do which will be a praiseworthy ambition and possible of accomplishment if we have the will to win through cooperation as loyal Fayette countians.

MAKING ARCH STREET A REAL THOROUGHFARE.

The special committee of the Neighborhood Automobile Club appointed to cooperate with City Council in working out revision of the traffic rules, and to secure parking places, has made a number of very good suggestions and recommendations which if adopted, should assist very materially in improving conditions about which more or less complaint has been made.

Of the suggestions offered one is of particular value as a means of permanently diverting a portion of traffic from Brimstone Corner. This is the proposal to open North Arch street from Apple to Peach street.
This improvement would make it possible for all traffic between the North Side and the West Side to be kept off that part of West Crawford avenue between the bridge and Brimstone Corner.

The long deferred paving of North Arch street will make that street available as an outlet for the full value as an artery between the two sections of the city until the block between Crawford avenue and West Fairview avenue has been widened so as to better accommodate vehicles and the street cars. This is an improvement which will doubtless come in time. Meanwhile the opening of North Arch street, being a less difficult problem, could be undertaken as a part of the plan to make Arch street succeed in importance to Pittsburg street as a north and south thoroughfare.

Counting certain duplications, there are now 363 causes for divorce in the United States. The result has been and is "confusion worse confounded." Besides the very evident fact that these multiple laws have not succeeded in reducing, or even limiting to old conservative figures, the number of divorces annually granted by our courts, the complication arising from a conflict in the various state laws has been a real and not only annoying but also to the rest of the world.

Europeans—except the Swiss, who have a similar system—are in every case almost hopelessly befuddled by the complications caused by the crossing and recrossing of our state and federal laws. They are even more amazed when they learn that within the limits of our nation a man and woman may be legally divorced in one state, but by no means free of their bonds if they travel half a mile away across the border of an adjoining state, that this same divorced man and woman may in one state legally enter upon a new marriage, again to find that, half a mile away, they have been guilty of bigamy; that the children born of the new relationship, call it marriage or call it bigamy, are legally offspring of one state and illegitimate in the next.

All this confusion is by no means the result of new or recent legislation.
The lawyers have always known that the grounds for it were there. It has been common knowledge also that it was from one of the fundamental impulses which went into the making of our government, that fear of central domination which made us set up our system of checks and balances, of limited federal authority, of state's rights, of town meetings, all for the purpose of retaining in our individual hands the largest possible amount of control.

When we attempt to lift the whole matter out of the hands of the state and pass one federal statute which will apply in all states, we may expect a revival of the "State Rights" sentiment as well as a considerable disagreement as to just what the provisions of that federal statute shall be. We shall have to reckon with the conservative sentiment of the South, with the more liberal Western theory of allowing another experiment in marriage as in any other undertaking, and with the individualistic view of New York, where every year a few more thousand nice men and women, preferring deliberately to disobey, stage a little "rebellion" which furnishes no more cause for credit to the state than does to creditous detectives upon whose testimony the divorce is granted.

Just Folks
Edgar A. Guest.

ENVY.
My boy, when malice starts to sneer and envy would your worth defame, Look back upon that earlier year When there was none to praise or blame.

Be not discouraged or dismayed Because at you some shafts are hurled.
The critic never draws his blade Against the toiler who's unknown.

The bitter tongues have naught to say Against the man who never tries;
They keep their silence to stay The form that has begun to rise.

When men you never heard of start Belittling what you've tried to do, Be not discouraged, but take heart At least you know they're hard on you.

Look back upon the silent years, When dawn the morning and the sun Except the man who is worth while,
No one draws the malice and the sneer.

So when the voice of envy shrieks And malice cries your faults aloud, Remember that the man who speaks Hears even your loud above the crowd.

Connellsville Will Have Real Ball Club This Season; "Jim" Haggerty to Manage "Cokers"

Former Collier Aggregation Will "Move" to This Place for Summer.

PLAY EVERY DAY IN WEEK

Connellsville will be represented by a fast baseball club this season. James Haggerty, manager of the Collier team which for a time wore the Coker livery last season, will again pilot that team under the "Independent" title.

Haggerty said today that although he had planned the opening game for this day on the coming week-end, he would not be able to play then but in following weeks would look good teams as local attractions.

The Collier team is a strong one, composed of top-notch players, and it is expected it will place the name of Connellsville well up in baseball circles.

It is Manager Jim Haggerty's plan to keep his team going every day in the week. The club will be on the road the major portion of the time but on every suitable date will be at home in Connellsville. Fayette field will be put in condition for the playing of games and after all this city will not be among the "dead ones."

He could not say who the first game here would be with but promised it will be scheduled in a short time. Just exactly what prompted the Collier manager to transplant his team to Connellsville was not stated but he indicated he was so pleased with the support his club received last season in the few games it participated under the name of the "Connellsville Independent" that he was willing to again "adopt" this place as "home."

With the knowledge that Connellsville will really have a ball club, the game has taken on a new aspect. The town community is expected to be strong and that will be a big factor in producing interest in any games that may be arranged with Scotland or Uniontown.

CHURCH HORSESHOE LEAGUE FORMED; TO OPEN SEASON MAY 27

The season will open on Tuesday, May 27, and will continue for a period of 10 weeks. The club's season will end on August 1. Rules will be drawn up by a committee composed of A. S. Slick, Samuel Showman, George W. Campbell and R. B. Wilhelm. The schedule committee is composed of D. H. Christian, W. J. McIlwain, S. B. Henry and W. L. Wright. These two committees will report at a meeting to be held Tuesday at 7:30 o'clock. All games will be on the South Side grounds.

Officers of the league are: C. W. Downis, president; D. H. Christian, secretary; and A. S. Slick, treasurer.

Cubs Get Two Hits.
Jay Kremer, the recruit pitcher of the Pittsburgh Pirates, once more pitched sensational baseball yesterday and with some brilliant aid held Chicago to a 2-0 score. He allowed the Cubs only two hits.

The New York Giants received a severe jolt in Philadelphia yesterday when that club bunched the chips off 5-4. Both clubs secured 11 hits.

Herbert Groom, 12 years old, while watching the tri-school athletic meet at McClellandtown yesterday, was struck on the head by a 12-pound shot hurled by Edward Steeves of Redstone Township High School team when the weight slipped from the latter's grasp. The boy was taken to the Uniontown Hospital where it was found he suffered a fractured skull.

There will be a general exodus of automobiles from Connellsville in the direction of Dawson Park grounds on Saturday between 12 and 1 o'clock. Coker rosters and sports followers in large numbers will attend the meet, being especially interested as there are prospects of the locals having far better chances than last season.

Paul Tornadoes' Winning Streak Broken by Error In Game With Leisenring

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FIVE WILL BE KILLED BY NOV.

On Highways If Present Rate of Fatalities Continues Until Then.

1,200 WILL BE INJURED

Special to The Courier

HARRISBURG, May 7.—"A great many people are alive and well today who will be neither in October, because of the apparently growing carelessness of users of the roads," said Secretary Paul D. Wright of the State Highway Department today.

The spring weather of April increased the number of cars on the highways—and the number of automobile accidents. There were 64 smash-ups in March on Pennsylvania roads and 96 in April. Five persons were killed in March and six in April. Forty-seven persons were injured in March and seven in April. Again, as in every month since we began to keep records of accidents on state highways, the greatest number of accidents occurred on absolutely straight road sections.

"So, if fatal accidents occur in their usual rate, 155 persons living today will be dead and buried November 1, and nearly 1,200 other persons will have suffered injury more or less serious. It seems to me it is time to conserve our human resources, and this can be done if drivers are as cautious at all times as, after the accident, they wish they had been—if they are still living."

The greater number of accidents in April occurred in the Altoona district, there being 15. The district around Harrisburg was a close second, with 14.

Four occupants of motor cars and two pedestrians were killed in April; 70 occupants of motor cars and four pedestrians were injured.

In the 96 accidents 124 automobiles were involved, 85 of them being open models.

Six accidents occurred at railroad crossings, six at road crossings, 13 at highway bridges, two at undergrade crossings, three at highway culverts, 51 on straight road sections, 21 on light curves, 15 on sharp curves, 15 on light grades and four on heavy grades. Of the pedestrians injured six were walking on the same side and in the same direction as the moving cars. The Highway Department action has suggested that pedestrians, particularly at night, walk toward traffic, so they can see approaching danger. Sixty-nine accidents occurred on dry roads and 27 on wet roads.

The department's reports for the last seven months show a total of 794 accidents on state highways, 329 of which occurred on straight sections of road. The report since last September shows that the less hazardous the highway, the greater number of accidents.

The winning streak of the Paul Tornado Athletic Association was broken last evening when it lost to the Leisenring No. 1 outfit by a score of 11-10 after winning 17 consecutive games, beginning May 12, 1923. The game was marked by numerous extra-base hits. Out of the 16 hits garnered by the Leisenring outfit, nine were for extra bases and the Tornadoes got six out of 11. Howard J. Washington and Hawkins emulated Babe Ruth by knocking out homers in the first two innings of the game. After being distanced in the first inning of the game the Tornadoes evened the count in the fourth only to lose again in the fifth but gradually they worked up and in the last of the ninth the count was tied with one out, Caraway doubled, and in an effort to catch the runner "slipping" the ball went by the Tornado second baseman into the centerfield. Caraway scoring the winning run.

This was the second game in the sensational winning streak of the Tornadoes that a relief pitcher was put into the game. Anderson being relieved by Washington with the count 10-3, Leisenring.

This evening the Tornadoes will play the Paul All-Stars also known as the Married Imperial Nine on the Dickerson Run grounds. Run Grove was scheduled but cancelled, no grounds being available. A return game with Leisenring will be played Thursday at the Y. Davis hurled for the Tornadoes in 11 with the "T's."

Is cigarette taste changing?

On May 2nd we sent this wire to every one of our customers throughout the country.

What's back of this big shift? Why are men changing by thousands?

Note—If you have not read the telegram above, please glance through it.

BIG EVENTS happen rarely in the cigarette business—yes. But if today you were "behind the scenes," you could sit and watch a thing going on that—in a mild way perhaps—might open any man's eyes.

The Man in the Street, the average smoker, is hardly aware that anything's happening. He might chance to notice that Smith has changed to another cigarette. Or, sitting with a group, it might occur to him that three or four of them have "switched"—quite lately.

No—there's nothing spectacular about it. But when every small brook starts to rise, there's a big flood in the river—and "flood" is exactly the word to describe this thing we are talking about.

What is it that is happening?

The thing that is happening is simply that, for months now, an average of over one thousand men EVERY DAY in this country (1,000 every day—think of it!) are changing from other cigarettes to Chesterfield.

Is cigarette taste changing? We don't know. But we do know that smokers are changing—over 150,000 have changed to Chesterfield since New Year's Day.

Nothing to get excited about, of course; but not a thing quite to ignore either—if you are interested in "what's what" in smoking.

Why are these men changing? Is it Chesterfield's exceptional tobacco, the fortunate blend, the unusual freedom from "sweetening," or what? Perhaps you don't care.

Perhaps the only thing you care about is "How do they TASTE?" All right. When it comes to that, Chesterfield—if you give them the chance—will tell their own story (and prove it!) in a far better way than we can.

Such popularity
must be deserved

In fifty twenty-five cent pieces are waiting the lucky ones, and in one hundred and seventy-five we have placed dimes. Almost every other cake has a prize and even though you may not be one of the lucky ones the cake will be well worth the eating and was baked for us by the Triangle Bakery, famous for their delicious cakes and bread.

We want to make this affair one of enjoyment, and we are sure that the purchases made during the party will be well worth your while. ## At the Theatres

The Paramount

"POOR MEN'S WIVES" the feature picture today and Thursday at the Paramount is human throughout and has many scenes of fine emotion as well as some of colossal magnitude.

Like all the big productions from the B. P. Schulberg studios, this cast has nothing to be desired. Such beauties as Barbara La Marr and Betty Francisco play the principal female roles. David Butler, the lovable lick of screen fame, gives an unusually convincing characterization as the taxicab driver; husband of Mrs. La Marr. Richard Tucker, suave, handsome and confident, plays a villainous role with a polish that almost causes one to believe he had been cast for a better part.

And Za Su Pitta, whose return to the screen has been one of the hot hopes of so many picture fans, is seen once more at her best. Last, but far from least, are the lovely twins—Mickey McBan and Muriel McCormac—who probably are the tiniest villains on the screen. They succeed in doing the one thing that brings trouble to the beautiful heroines, but with your hearts while doing it.

Friday and Saturday Matty Mattison will be seen in "The Last White Man."

The Soisson

"THE LEAVENWORTH CASE," showing today at the Soisson, is an absorbing mystery play. "The Leavenworth Case," which is based upon the famous novel of the same name by Anna Katharine Green, is the story of the solution of the baffling murder of Ira Leavenworth, a wealthy old reclusive, who is found shot to death in his sound-proof apartment.

His two alicies, Mary and Eleanor Leavenworth, whose relationship with their uncle had never been more than ordinarily cordial, are the first to come to the attention of the police as then swings to a strange cellar upon Mr. Leavenworth on the night of his death. Two other men closely connected with the affairs of Mr. Leavenworth are not beyond suspicion. A secret marriage, a key, a woman's handkerchief and charred letter are clues that concern investigators.

The crime is solved by Donald Robertson, a private investigator, who is one of the most famous fiction detectives. Revelation as to who the guilty party was proves a highly sensational climax to the mystery. Thursday, Friday and Saturday Wesley Barry will be seen in "George Washington, Jr."

The Orpheum

"SCARAMOUCHE," one of the biggest screen sensations of the year, is on view today and tomorrow at the Orpheum. It is a screen version of the thrilling by "the modern duenna" Rafael Sabatini. As a play "Scaramouche" has had a very successful career. The Andre-Morau of the stage production is Sydney Blackmer,

I Offer Girls

My Aids to Beauty, and to Woman Youth
By Edna Wallace Hopper

I had a rich, ambitious mother who searched the world with me to find the supreme beauty helps.

They made me a famous beauty. And now, after 19 years in the limelight, they keep me a beauty still. Other girls, in these same ways, can multiply their beauty. Other women can, to old age, keep their youthful bloom. I want to help them do so. The very helps that France gave me are now at your command.

I am very busy on the stage. But I am taking time to tell you the secrets of my beauty and my youth. And I hope the time will come when girls and women by the millions will enjoy what I enjoy.

20 Helps in Four
I found 20 things that women need to keep them at their best. French experts combined them in four applications. Thus beauty and personal youth were made very easy for me.

One is my white Youth Clay. Not like the crude and muddy clays so many use today. This clay white, refined and delicate. Twenty years of scientific study have made it amazingly efficient.

I use White Youth Clay to purge my skin of all that clogs or mars it. It gives me that rosy, baby-like complexion. Blackheads or pimples, oiliness or blotches are unknown to me.

It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles, keeps the face skin ever like a girl's.

One application of my White Youth Clay brings almost unbelievable results. Many women seem to drop ten years. Continued use does marvels.

remembered for his work in "The Mountaineer" and "The Love Child." Marjorie Gillmore plays the role of Alice, Andre's boyhood sweetheart, around whom the story revolves. On the screen the balance falls heavily in favor of "Scaramouche." Rex Ingram's production is being believed by a majority of critics to be the best picture in the history of the industry. In this version there are a trio of stars—Ramon Novarro as Andre, Alice Terry as Alice, and Lewis Stone as the Marquis de la Tour d'Auvergne, the hated aristocratic leader—the same three whose acting was so impressive in Lagrange's earlier success, "The Prisoner of Zenda."

PENDEXTER

Sorrel Horse, who had been chagrined at the lack of respectful attention, became busy immediately. He opened a roll of red cotton cloth and from a wad of eagle down gently tickled up a small round stone and whispered to it and then laid it to his ear for nearly a minute. Carefully replacing the sacred stone on the eagle down he boasted: "Shunee-luta's medicine is very strong. It has teeth like the gray wolf. It will bite the medicine of Two Knives Talking into many pieces."

"And While We Were Asking This of Tunkun Our Prayer Was Answered," Scissors Continued.

With the aborigine's love for the dramatic the spectators leaned forward, the copper faces revealing their rapt attention. No dual could compare with a duel between rival medicine men. Crazy Horse, too, was intensely interested, and Shunee-luta was at his best when demonstrating his wizardry before an appreciative audience. After glancing thoughtfully about him, he closed his eyes for a moment as if summoning spirit strength, then swiftly extended a hand high above his head and plucked a flock of play cards from the air. A slight hiss of approval rewarded his slight-of-hand. Holding the cards face down for a moment he carefully threw them on the ground within reach of Scissors. Then, apparently without looking at the white man, requested:

"Let Two Knives Talking pick out one of his medicine is not asleep." Scissors selected a card and almost immediately Shunee-luta brought the tips of his index fingers and his thumbs together to form the shape of a diamond and announced: "Squaw!" Scissors laid up the card so all might see it was the queen of diamonds. Several other cards were "read" in a like manner. Then the medicine man scooped them up and made a motion of tossing them into the air, and they were gone and his head was empty.

"For an Indian he's clever with cards," Scissors said in English to Dinadale's benefit. During the second his gaze was off his medicine man the cards dropped before him as if falling from the sky. A murmur of approval greeted Scissors he must be on his mettle. He tore a sheet of paper from his pad and did something to it with his scissors. Folding the paper he requested Crazy Horse to hold it in his left hand. The chief hesitated for a moment, then accepted the paper and clinched it tightly to make sure it did not vanish. Scissors then proceeded to pick up the cards and to shuffle them with a dexterity that would have won the hearty admiration of San Juan Joe or French Curly.

Next he extended his two hands, the deck in his left palm, and asked the medicine man to look at the top card, to announce it and then cut the deck, placing the cut in the right palm and carrying it with the remainder of the pack. Sorrel Horse unwillingly complied, his common sense warning him his rival would not embark on anything that was destined to be a failure. He held up the three of hearts and bared it to Scissors' right palm with a shallow cut.

Even as his hand was completing the cut Scissors asked him to turn up the top card. It was the three of hearts. Sorrel Horse was the sullen of face and endeavored to balk the white man's skill by cutting the deck to the left hand before Scissors could speak. Then with a grin of triumph he turned up the top card only to grunt in disgust on beholding again the card he had tried to bury.

"A penny saved is a penny earned," but why not save more pennies by attending Nelson's "Heart of the Season" Sale, May 8th.

See Pages 11, 12, 13, 14.

"Don't creep and me to play poker," muttered Dinadale.

"They never saw any one appear the cut with one hand," muttered Dinadale. "And I'm wakan." As he spoke he began shooting the cards back and forth until they seemed to fly from hand to hand of their own volition, and finished by spreading them in a big fan. With a flourish he showed them toward Crazy Horse and requested him to draw one. The chief scowled and seemed disinclined to participate in the demonstration. But the warriors were like children in their eagerness to behold the completion of the mystery, and he darted his fingers toward an end of the fan.

But even more rapidly did the trickster's fingers, concealed by the spread deck, convey to the danger point the card he desired to force upon the chief. Crazy Horse had no suspicion that his choice had been influenced in any way by the white man, but when he observed he had drawn the three of hearts he was deeply irritated. He cut the card on the ground and eyed it malevolently. But Scissors was not done. He asked the chief to show the paper he was still holding in his left hand. Crazy Horse unwillingly smoothed out the paper and bared it in a perpendicular line, three hearts.

"Wahite-helo!" he muttered, staring thoughtfully at the piece of paper. Thus far it was obvious that Two Knives Talking could bring to light anything Sorrel Horse sought to hide, and could even forestall—as evidenced by the paper—just what the medicine man would attempt to conceal. Sorrel Horse felt his reputation slipping. He stared off at the Black Hills, conjuring help from Mato Tipi, the Grizzly Bear lodge, where Tunkun's power dwelt. Dinadale's spirits mounted as he beheld his friend's legendary supposition that of the red conjurer; and despite his anxiety over their situation he could not refrain from speculating on his companion's cunning. He did not believe that any one in Deadwood City suspected the picture-man's adeptness. And he wondered in how many other ways would Scissors prove to be a surprise.

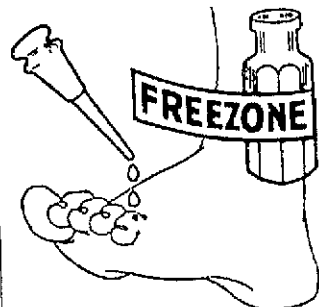

Sorrel Horse now proceeded with his next trick. He drew a short knife and stabbed it into the ground several "feet" to prove it was a genuine blade. Then throwing back his head and opening his mouth he began apparently forcing the knife down his throat. This in itself was sufficient to evoke a low chorus of applause, mixed with grunts of wonder. But the medicine man had yet to appear at his magical heat. Drooping on his side he groaned.

We appeared to be very ill, and a thin voice that seemed to float in the air, begged for a lighted pipe. One was brought and placed beside him on the robe. He stuffed the bowl in his mouth and blew the smoke through the stem, then he inhaled it. As he kept this up for a dozen whiffs the perspiration stood out on his sharp features and his copper skin took on the color of ash. Dinadale believed he was dying. Scissors smiled complacently and watched slowly. Suddenly tossing the pipe aside and clutching a hand to his neck, he plucked forth the knife, and his physical appearance quickly became normal.
